CARTE POSTALE. POSTKARTE.

By Appointment.

The Harbour of Hamburg is famous as one of the finest and most important havens in Northern Europe. The quays stretch along both banks of the Northern-Elbe for a distance of fifteen miles. The best possible view of the Port and the one which affords the most interesting impression of its magnitude, is obtained in the course of one of the circular trips by boat round its confines.

WIDE WIDE WORLD HAMBURG – GERMANY

Raphael Tuck & Sons' "OILETTE" (Regd.) Postcard 7699.

Printed in Germany.

We have two azaleas in bloom. Mrs. Parry gave us the plants as they would not blossom for her. We put them in the window & last Jan. discovered a blossom & trees are full of buds. We have now over a dozen blooms a beautiful pink and so dainty. Mrs. Seymour was over a while Sunday night - and we had quite a nice chat with her.

Feb 15. Mrs Soper gave us twenty-four foreign postcards that she got abroad. They are beautiful ones of Norway & Sweden.

[illegible] valentine poems [illegible] 71 - a hard one to [illegible] [illegible] of Robert Browning and [illegible] best pieces of his poems.

Mrs valentine from Rob, a postcard with valentine greetings.

[illegible] one of my cousin's little boy [illegible] gave me a red valentine card in a red envelope. It is very pretty.

Feb 19. Long letter from Jo and [illegible] fine article he wrote [illegible] the Boston newspapers.

Feb 20. Have read "The Lily of the Valley" [illegible] day.
